EESF Calls for Volunteers

April 1, 2009 - The Elevator Escalator Safety Foundation (EESF) and the Elevator Escalator Safety Foundation of Canada (EESFC) offer many volunteer opportunities for people who want to help decrease the number of preventable accidents on our industry's products. People like you help the Foundation realize our mission by educating the public on the safe and proper use of elevators, escalators and moving walks.

There are various ways for volunteers to get involved with all the Foundation's programs - Safe-T Rider, A Safe Ride and National Elevator Escalator Safety Awareness Week.

Volunteers can:

- Present the Safe-T Rider program in a classroom or at school assembly
- Give an A Safe Ride Presentation
- Write a Proclamation Request letter to your Governor or Mayor for Safety Week
- Set up an informational display booth in a Mall or Public Building
- Send out company payroll or bill-stuffers with safety information
- Include a Safety Week story in an in-house publication
- Help with an upcoming EESF special event
- And many more!

It is simple to get program materials and information for any variety of volunteer activities. The Foundation's web site offers an "I Want to Volunteer" form to fill out if you would like to be contacted about volunteering. Visit the site at <http://www.eesf.org/help/volunteer.html> or click "Help EESF" on our home page. Potential volunteers may call EESF headquarters at (800) 949-6442 or e-mail info@EESF.org for any questions you may have or to order materials for your presentation or event.
